Sales Tax for School Funds Stand-by Republicans Gird Urged by Chairman

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 27. (Exupon California's new bank and business corporation tax law marked téday's initial public hearing of the State Legislative Tax Investigating Committee. A. R. Heron, Director of Finance in Gov. Young's council, challenged the declaration of Richles and E. Collins, chairman of the State Board of Equalization, that the 4 per cent net income levy is "a poor makeshift at best and can never be expected to exact from the banks the contribution which they should make toward the expense of government."

Heron, who has just returned from the meeting of the National Tax Association at Saramac Lake, N. Y., declared, "California is years ahead of other States in the matter of the taxation of banks and business corporations and no State now taxing banks on the net-income basis should make any change."

MINIMUM TAX

"We find that it and the state of the suggested medification when boiled down becomes no modification of the flexible provisions.

The regular Republican forces will state the state of the broad principle of the flexible provisions.

State of some $700,000," Collins charged.

"Instances where taxes have been increased are as numerous as the cases in which they have been reduced and many of the corporations, particularly, oil companies, will not be shie to take offset credits for depleted assets after the first few years the new law is in operation." Heron asserted.

He declared many of the advantages afforcied the oil companies during the first year of the operation of the new 4 per cent tax will not accrue next year.

"Further changes in the tax returns of many large taxpayers will be upward rather than downward," the Pinance Department director stated. "Application of the new bank and corporation franchise-tax law places the tax more fairly than any previous franchise tax has done."

FESS DEFENDS STAND OF HOOVER

STAND OF HOOVER

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27. (P)—
President Hoover's announcement favoring retention of the flexible tariff principle was defended in the Senate today by Senator Fees of Ohio, the Republican whip, who said, however, he doubted the wisdom of a Presidential expression on pending legislation.

Fees said that Mr. Hoover, nevertheless, is wholly within his rights and those criticising him may as well "make up their minds that the country will support the Executive whenever he assumes any authority of leadership."

The Ohioan argued that this is a fact regardless of whether it is a wise or unwise practice or whether it is "humiliating" to some Sensitors.

er it is "humiliating" to some Senators.

If he had been consuited, the Senator said, his decision probably would have been against the President's action.

The flexible clause, he added, is a "policy-determining item" and not merely administrative, and if the President is concerned about a change in a policy of importance, he, Fess, does not believe there is basis for criticism.

Fess characterized yesterday's speech of Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, as an appeal to sectionalism and an "unfortunate utterance."

said; "we are not discriminating

Taking up the opposition to the delegated to the President in 1922 should be "recaptured and redeposited with the legislative branch of the government where it belongs." He added the bill's proposal for the flexible provision "sets the President up in the theory as merely an adding machine."

Senate Naval Committee to Investigate Record

Officers at Geneva Parley Expected to Appear

Government Experts Must Tell Their Version

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27. (A)-Awaiting the story from William B. Shearer of his activities at the transformation included at the senate naval investigating committee today put the shipbuilders, and American naval experts to that conference on notice to be ready to follow him.

Credited by some of the foreign press as the man who broke up the Geneva parley. Shearer has promised to tell the committee on Monday about his work for the firms he is now suing for an additional $250,000 he asserts is due him for the Geneva job. ference as the $25,000 representa-

REQUEST EXPECTED

The committee expects to receive a request for a hearing by the naval experts on the staff of the American delegation to Geneva, who were named yesterday as associates of Shearer during that conference by Drew Pearson, newspaper reporter at the Geneva meeting. If those named do not come forward to answer the committee will call them. Rear-Admiral J. M. Reeves was singled out by Pearson as one of the experts he heard openly express the hope that the conference would not succeed. He said Reeves associated frequently with Shearer.

formulating a merchant marine campaign.

Pearson yesterday told the committee that Albin E. Johnson, Geneva correspondent of the New York World, showed him a document purporting to be a Scotland Yard record of Shearer. Later, he said, Shearer told him of taking the document away from Johnson in his hotel room at Geneva.

EXAMINE FILES

As a result, Chairman Shortridge said today it is possible the committee will turn to the secret files of this government to learn what records are there about Shearer, if any, Senator Shortridge says he is interested also in knowing what the shipbuilders knew about Shearer when they hired him for $25,000 to "observe" the Geneva conference. Senator Allen, Republican, Kansas, of the committee joined today in the opinion expressed by Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, who started the Shearer inquiry, that the American naval experts named by Pearson should be called to tell of their relations with Shearer at Geneva.

The shipbuilders have insisted before the committee that they only expected Shearer to "observe and report for them at Geneva."

Chairman Shortridge notified all today to be prepared to return before the committee after Shearer speaks Monday.

The committee is seeking to conclude the investigation before Premier MacDonald of Great Britain reacties America's shores next week. If the hearing is not concluded by that time an adjournment probably will be taken until his departure.

Julian Arnold, American commercial attache to China, and Charles B. Spofford, American trade commissioner to India, both informed the council that the Orient is ready for the development of trade with California and the United States. These countries, which have approximately half of the world's population, Arnold and Spofford declared, are receptive to American trade if the proper approach is made.

Suggestions made by the speak-this product of many millions of dollars.

Spofford declared that the Department of Commerce should be induced to appoint a commercial attache at large to cover the whole Far East, including India, Straits Settlements, Java. Australia and New Zealand, "in order that opportunity for Pacific Coast trade with that territory may be investigated and reported upon in a manner more suitable for the proper determination of fundamental needs and policies than can be obtained by intermittent and piecemeal reports from our several trade-commissioner offices in the entire Far Eastern territory."

LOW DUTIES

Spofford recommended that the council "emphasize that India has comparatively low import duties and that no imperial or preferential tariffs exist in India," and that it "encourage direct silver bullion shipments to India via the Pacific Ocean rather than the Atlantic, in order that faster freight service for other classes of merchandise may be made possible."

Arnold suggested the establishment at the University of California of the first American graduate school of oriental language and literature, and recommended it in co-operation with chambers of commerce and the college of commerce of the university, a study of raw materials coming to California ports from the Par East with the object of using as much as possible of them in building up local industries.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27. (P)-A proposal to have the Federal

A proposal to have the Federal government regulate grazing on the public lands to prevent erosion and conserve the watersheds has been laid before President Hoover and will be urged upon Congress this winter.

Representative French, Republican, Idaho, who has introduced a bill to carry out the plan, has suggested to the President that this would be a better method of dealing with the problem than to turn the lands over to the States.

His measure would require persons desiring to graze their stock on the public lands first to procure a permit from the Secretary of the Interior, who, with the aid of boards set up in the different States, would supervise and regulate such activities.

Today's conversations between Foreign Secretary Henderson and M. Dovgalevsky, Russian representative, lasted two hours.

> General Motors Head Favors Radio Store Chain

Auto Dealers May Stock Up on Sets as Sideline

Deal With R.C.A. on Patents Still in Negotiation

NEW YORK, Sept. 27. (Exclusive)
John J. Raskob is understood to be contemplating chain radio stores as part of the plan for the General Motors company's advent into the radio industry. Outlets for the new radio receiving set to be produced and distributed by General Motors will also be found among its presulting the state of the New York Sun staff. will also be found among its pres-ent distributors of automobiles and BURLESQUE STAR

In her heyday Lulu Lesile was starred in "The Black Crook," "King Cole the Second" and other musical extravaganass and later played with Billy Watson's burlesquers in vaude-ville. She was an accomplished trombone and cornet player and skilled also on the organ and plano, and, after retiring from the stage, taught plano and organ in Philadelphia.

Her father was Villiam Wagestaff, a professor of music in Cambridge, Eng., and her maiden name was Evelyna Wagestaff.

Insiders profess to know that this automotive corporation was impelled to enter the radio field because of the seasonal character of its merchandising problem. Motor cara and electric refrigerators find their best markets in spring and summer. Radio apparatus, on the other hand, sells best in fall and winter, when people remain indoors more and are presumed to be more inclined to listen to radio programs.

DEAL NOT CLOSED Negotiations between the General Motors company and the Radio Corporation of America were still in progress today and an announcement of completed arrangements is expected momentarily.

From an interview today with David Sarnoff, general manager of the Radio Corporation of America, it was learned only that the deal had not been closed. Mr. Sarnoff was wholly noncommittal about its details.

She owned a home in Great Kills, but moved from it some years ago after having been robbed of much jewelry and gold medals.

Notes dated last July directed McCallum to see that she was buried beside her husband in Philadelphia. Her trunks yielded $10,000 worth of jewelry, a deed to her Staten Island home, worth some $12,000, many spangled gowns and battered books of clippings of her stage triumphs.

A cloth bag tied about her body yielded $700 in bills.

wilson the statement that $500,000,000 might not be enough to handle the exportable surpluses of all crops.

"Don't you think it would be wise for us to put the debenture clause in the tariff bill so you will have enough?" the Iowan asked.

"I hadn't given it any thought," wilson replied.

"Well, I think you should."
Brookhart asserted. "You will fail was wholly noncommittal about its details.

From other reliable sources, however, it was learned that the Radio Corporation of America. whose patents General Motors seeks a license to use in the manufacture of its sets. has proposed that controlling interest in the radio company to be formed shall rest with the Radio Corporation of America. Each company would furnish $5.000,000 toward the $10,000,000 capitalization of the radio subsidiary.

G. M. TO CONTROL

Preferred stock will be held in equal amount by each corporation but the negotiations are not completed with respect to the division of the common stock. Unofficially it was stated that General Motors demands, and will probably get, 51 per cent of the common stock—48 per cent to be held by the Radio Corporation of America. None of the stock will be offered publicly. The R.C.A. will profit from the royalties received from the use of its batents, which, unless an exception is made because of its stock ownership in the new company, will amount to 7½ per cent of the gross value of all output. However, it has been learned that General Motors is not overlooking the possibility of strengthening its own patent position by acquiring certain rights to important inventions of its own. Experienced radio engineers have already been added to the staff of General Motors.

PLANT ACQUIRED G. M. TO CONTROL

PLANT ACQUIRED

When completed the deal will lead to the immediate devolopment of the plant of the Day-Fan Electric Company at Dayton, O., recently acquired by General Motors for the mass production of radio receiving sets. Tubes may also be made by the new company.

Although it licenses nearly all of the manufacturers in the radio industry for the use of its patents, the Radio Corporation of America has ne set-producing units of its own except the recently acquired Victor plant at Camden, N. J. The sets made by the newly formed Radio Victor Corporation, however, keep their identity separate from those produced by the General Electric and Westinghouse companies for distribution by the R.C.A. Vestinghouse companies tion by the R.C.A.

MERGER IN OFFING The Radio Corporation is known to be anxious to go into large-scale production, through its own factories or subsidiaries and free from the present production arrangements brought about by patent cross-licenses with General Electric and Westinghouse. Hence its acquisition of the Victor company, its

An electric plant furnished by the Kohler company was installed in a building on the association's farms, and a last installment of the purchase price became due a day after the seizure.

As the owner of the plant, the Kohler company demanded its return and the Circuit Court of Appeals upheld the claim on the ground that it had not been used in or designed for the unlawful manufacture of liquor.

The government asked the highest court to make a rulling to guide it in the enforcement of the prohibition law.

That the labor conditions under which the Hetch-Hetchy work is being carried on be not changed and that pressure be brought on civic and political bodies to pledge themselves to this end.

Dealing further with the situation the report says: "The working costs of Hetch-Hetchy were based on the work at the start of the job and any increased demands of labor would only add to the bond issue and consequent raise in taxes.

"The majority of labor necessary to complete the work is unakilled labor, which up to date has been more or less itinerant and as the work proceeds closer to San Francisco the condition will be continued, therefore all possible assistances should be given the City Engineer in his position to co-operate with both the city of San Francisco and his superintendents in charge of the work at the boints of construction.

Turn the light on the Truth!

It's just naturally good tobacco - not "artificial treatment" that makes OLD GOLD gentle to the throat and better to the taste

No one cigarette-maker has any monopoly on the heat-treatment of cigarette tobaccos.

For heat-treating is neither new nor exclusive. It has been used for years by practically all cigarette-makers to "set" and sterilize their tobacco.

But OLD GOLD'S goodness does not depend on artificial treatment. It is the product of naturally good tobaccos . . . carefully selected for mildness, smoothness and flavor. Tobaccos made free of "throat scratch" by Mother Nature san Diego, sept. 27.—Involving approximately $1,000,000 and calling for expenditure of $5,000,000 in the vicinity of San Diego within the next few years, one of the largest realty deals in years has been closed, it was learned today.

Try a package. You'll immediately get the thrill of this smoother and better cigarette. And you'll know then why OLD GOLD's sales are ALREADY THREE TIMES GREATER than the combined growth of three leading cigarette brands during a like period of their existence.

The Agua Caliente Company, owners of the extensive development at Tis Juans Hot Springs, has acquired a giant tract of acreage on the water front just south of the international border and several hundreds of acres on the United States side immediately adjoining the Mexican holdings. The new owners plan development of the property into a seaside resort.

Although Wirt G. Bowman, head of the Agua Caliente Company, has admitted purchase of the property, he declines to amplify that statement. Some of the papers have been sent to Mexico City for approval and Bowman is withholding his statement until the approval has been obtained.

The cosan frontage on the Mexican side of the line includes one of the finest beaches in America, fronting the high and level plat sau which offers an ideal site for a hotter attractions for guests are said to be included in the tentative plans. Two roads to the development will be paved, one s continuation of the Coronado Strand Highway through Imperial Beach to the border and the other from Tia Juana to the ocean.

The racket, Reed revealed, is for the men posing as telephone company employees to call on house-wives on the excuse that the company has sent them to locate radio interference.

If the home happens to have a radio, the men examine it, apparently in the attempt to locate the trouble, and finally amounce that the fault is not with the telephone lines but with the radio set.

would put over a win. But he began the ninth walking Mickey Heath. It was his only pass of the game. Cleo Carlyle fouled off a lot of good pitches and then lifted a towering fly that struck the right-field fence and bounded and Carlyle sprinted round to third base. Albert batted for Maloney and popped a fly to Slade. But Frank Shellenback kicked in with a double to left that scored Carlyle and Hollywood was out in front. Lee was out on a fly to Huft, but Rollings singled, Mulligan doing well to knock the ball down and keep Shellenback from scoring. Then Funk put the game in the refrigerator by slapping the ball over the right-field fence, scoring Shellenback and Rollings ahead of him. That rally netted Hollywood five runs, gave them a fourrun lead and they held it to the end, for Shellenback made short work of the Missions in the last of the ninth.

Errors helped to make trouble for Shellenback, for only two of the four runs scored by the Mis-

Newsboy Brown proved he could beat Ernie Peters, Chicago Indian, any time he wanted, when he outpointed his rival for the second time over a ten-round route at the Hollywood Legion Stadium last night.

Brown didn't win by any great margin, but his victory was convincing. He knew when to speed up, and when to ley off, and although Peters was willing, he didn't have a chance.

Brown had slight edges in four rounds, one went to Peters and the rest were even. The veteran flyweight was entirely too smart for the last, without any large advantage for either man. Downing, vice-president, Union National Bank, Citizens' Union National Bank, Louisville, Ky., and H. J. Hass, vice-president, Pirat National Bank,
Philadelphia Philadelphia, are the two recognized candidates. The former is coming to San Francisco with a strong following from the southern States and the latter has the support of the Pennsylvania bankers.

Election to the presidency of the American Bankers' Association is one of the most coyeted bonors in the banking world, and active cam-paigning is conducted for months in paigning is conducted for months in advance by the aspirants for the spanning is conducted for months in advance by the aspirants for the office and their supporters. The policy of the association is to rotate the office among the national, State and savings bank divisions, the choice usually falling to a candidate who has served as president of one of the divisions. This year is the turn for the national bank division to nominate the ascond vice-president, who under ordinary circumstances should succeed to the presidency in two years.

If advance reports are true, the Kentucky candidate has the largest precovention following and is the favorite to win the second vice-presidency. The Atlantic Coast States, however, have not held the presidency for several years and may concentrate behind the Philadelphia entrant in the hope of winning the total of the country, and the second of the country, the election of John G. Lorse.

The election of John G. Lonsdale, president of the National Bank of Commerce of St. Louis, who is acheduled for the honor of being the new president of the association, will enable the Middle West to retain the presidency for two years in succession. The present head of the bankers is Craig B. Hazelwood of Chicago, who was preceded two years ago by Mglvin A. Traylor, another Chicagoan.

CAREER VARIED The St. Louis banker approaches the highest post in the bankers' association with a varied business background. He started his business career in Hot Springs, Ark., as a real estate man, and in a few years' time branched out in the railroad business as the organizer of the Little Rock, Hot Springs and Texas Railroad, an enterprise intended to open up a large area in Arkansas to business and agricultural exploitation. tural exploitation.

period which has been distinguished by various economic phenomena, strictly commercial trends were eclipsed by significant financial and speculative movements. The unusual aspects of international monetary conditions have been emphasized by the raising of the English rediscount rate a full 1 per cent, to a point above the local figure, while the tension here has been further evidenced by the continued high charges for both call and time loans. Recent depression in foreign securities prices, notably at London, was a factor in the renewed conspicuous weakness at New York, but strong banking support relieved the nervousness and unsettlement.

The recurring disturbences apparently have originated within the markets themselves, for the general trade situation has retained its equilibrium, with steadiness remaining one of its chief characteristics. Despite another excess of declines in Dun's list, no pronounced tendency toward lower whole die quotations has developed, and the easing in steel products which has caused comment, is scattered.

exceeded 21,000,000,000 kilowatt hours, an increase of 14 per cent over the same period for last year.

Equally striking is the growth in the use of electricity for domestic service. The total sales of electricity for lighting, cooking and appliances in the 19,400,000 electrified homes in the United States, marked a 18 per cent increase over a like period of just twelve months ago. Still, by far the largost area of the world is poorly lighted.

No highway development in the United States adds more romance and interest than that of the old Spanish trail, which stretches from San Diego, Cal., to St, Augustine, Pla., through Phoenix, El Paso, San Antonio, New Orleans, through Southern Mississippi and Alabama Gulf coasts to Tallahasse and Jacksonville.

It was Col. Ed Pletcher who really pioneered the old Spanish trail, it had its origin in Mobile Ala., six years ago. The colonel visualized a short cut across the continent through some of the most romantic territory in the nation.

As Pacific Coast distributors of the securities of this company, we are advised that the common stock has been approved for listing on the New York Curb Exchange and will be called for trading Monday, September 30.

This important development establishes a national market for the security, which already enjoys national distribution.

As the nucleus in merger negotiations involving other natural gas properties in the West Virginia and Ohio territory, we believe this company occupies a strong position and warrants the attention of investors. The price is at the market, about $12.

Inquiries are Invited.

Motors continued to sag, several, including Chrysler and Studebaker, reaching new 1929 lows, and General Motors getting within less than a point of its minimum. In the rails, Chesapeake Corporation sold at a new low for the year at 78 3-4. Oils sagged moderately.

Auburn Auto had one of its characteristically wide movements, dropping 35 points and rallying 10. Columbian Carbon lost 17 and Commercial Solvents 15 points.

A handful of utilities and specialities was bid up violently in a desperate move by bulls. Standard Gas was sent up about 25 points to a new peak, then lost about a third of its gain. American Water Works rose 14 points to a new peak at 199, and closed at 195.

Merger prospects kept enthusiasm alive for the Pacific Coast utilities, Pacific Lighting and Southern California Edison reaching new peaks. Cutler Hammer reached another new top, and Industrial Rayon was bid up 14 points.

Commodities were somewhat heavy. Wheat lost about 2 cents a bushel on poorer demand, and corn lost a cent and more. Cotton was quiet and closed a little lower.

Foreign exchanges moved in narrow ranges, sterling slipping back a little, while the French franc was firmer. Renewed weakness of sterling on Paris was ascribed to withdrawals of French balances in condon for month-en, requirements. The Canadian dollar rallied to 99.32 cents.

SAN PRANCISCO. Sept. 27. 49.—Active trading, with the substantial rises on the turb exchange, was confined for the most part today to the public utility group. In the rest of the list active trading was seen in a few of the issues, the oils moved to lower levels, the banks showed frac-

Hearing Continued

E. D. Reiter, chairman of the newly organized gas conservation committee representing a group of independent operators has requested that a hearing be continued to October 7 for the purpose of getting together certain information in connection with an agreement prepared and submitted by seven major oil companies to aid in disposal of gas in the Santa Fe Springs field, Signal Hill, Ventura avenue and Seal Beach.

The committee will bold a series of sessions between now and the date set to meet with Mr. Bush, State oil and gas supervisor. Indications are that the independent group will work in co-operation with major companies.

Pacific Western Gains

It was reported yesterday that the Pacific Western Oil Company's production which for several months has been near 13,000 barrels a day, as a result of the recent completion on the coast near Elwood.

This production is obtained from 134 wells, and is distributed among various fields as follows: Piru, 142 barrels; Los Alamitos, 1150 barrels; Baldwin Hills, 2510 barrels; Huntington Beach, 315 barrels; Elwood.

The company's well on Sec. 34, North Dome of Kettleman, is believed to be close to the axis of the structure, and is drilling shead below 6500 feet and close to the production sone.

Steel har buring in the East appears to be averaging a little better than in August Spirited demand in jobbins mill and tennase orders for steel sheets features the market at Chicago, At least one producer is amade to the form of moving the season of the remainder of the rest.

The lawyer appeared to ask the court to grant Gordon another week in which to pay his $2000 September alimony to Anna Clare Thorne Hutchins, ex-wife No. 3.

Mr. Thorne is happlity married at last, the court was told. But he and his fourth wife, the former Mary Bolin, a 25-year-old nurse who attended him in a recent illness, are obliged to live in an eightroom Gold Coast apartment sprinkled sparsely with installment-plan furniture. Three of the rooms are bare, Mr. Donahue told the judge in a shocked whisper. Mr. Thorne, it seems, had to part with many of his trappings to pay for his most recent divorce.

His first wife, Virginia Milner, now living in New York, has been getting $750 a month alimony since 1921. Helen Maginnis, the second wife, got $100, and Anna Clare Hutchins is getting $2000 a month from him, Mr. Donahue related. The attorney is trying to make lump settlements for all Mr. Thorne's alimony and get him straightened out so he can live comfortably with his present wife.

Tombs today in default of $10,000 bail on indictments charging bigamy and perjury.

Complications with his second wife and a small report thereof in a New York newspaper led to Mr. Sloan's present dilemma. The wife he left behind in Grand Rapids. Mich., in 1925 happened about two weeks ago in Grand Rapids to pick up a New York newspaper published in April and noted an item reporting that Charles Athlone O'Sullivan Sloan was being sued for separation.

O'Sullivan Sloan was being sued for separation.

The Michigan Mrs. Sloan immediately telegraphed her suspicions to Dist. Atty. Banton, who investigated. Last week both wives appeared before the grand jury and Sloan was indicted.

The records show that he married Dorothy Mogue of Tudor City. October 3, 1928, after she had nursed him in St. Luke's Hospital through an appendicitis operation, and thathe had married Gladys Robinson in Grand Rapids, on November 29, 1919.

After two children were born. Sloan deserted her, the first Mrs. Sloan declared.

The California State Department of Natural Resources will brook no unreasonable delays on the art of oil and gas producers in wastage of natural gas in ed to stop the field operation of oil producers who do not take immediate steps to prevent gas will work an unnecessary hardship on the oil industry.

This was the ultimatum delivered yesterday to a large group of producers, both large companies and independents, operating in Southern California fields, by Eugene D. Bennett, attorney and executive officer of the State Department of Natural Resources, at a meeting before State Gas Supervisor R. D. Bush.

DELAY GRANTED The meeting, held in the courtroom of the State Railroad Commission here, and called for the purpose of discussing a tentative agreement for gas conservation, drawn up by the seven large operating companies and submitted to the independent companies, was ad-crawn up by the seven large operating companies and submitted to the independent companies, was adjourned to October 7 at 10 a.m., to give the latter group additional time to study its provisions.

Bennett told the oil company representatives that, while the State will not object to granting further time for the study of the agreement, it will not countenance delays for any other .eason and pointed out that dates for hearings on certain injunction proceedings already have been set. He reminded the operators that the law has been effective since May 25, last, and that 600.000,000 cubic feet of gas needlessly are being wasted daily in Galifornia fields, with a productivity loss of $6,000.000.

FALL KILLS ARMLESS PILOT TRANSIT EWS VOICED

Josephine Callaghan, Flying to Washington to Plead Men of City Talk on for License, Plunges in Texas

> Flying across the country to demonstrate her right to a pilot's sense despite the fact that she virtually was armiess, Josephine Calghan of Encino was killed instantly when her plane, crashed from height of 2500 feet into a cotton field seven miles west of Abilene, Tex., yesterday morning. She was flying an unlicensed old model Lincoln rage, which was equipped with a shoulder high control stick to enable to handle the plane with her stub arms.

She had set out Monday to fly Washington from Dycer Airport, where she had learned to fly under the tutelage of Charles F. Dycer. The latter said yesterday that, in spite of her physical handicap, he considered her the best woman fiyer he has ever seen.
"And I have seen all the famous women fiyers," he added.

MANY HOURS IN AIR

MANY HOURS IN AIR

Before she set out in her crosscontinent trip Miss Callaghan had more than 200 solo hours in the air.
Dycer said.

It is his belief that the fatal crash was not caused by any deficiency in the plane but must have been caused by a sudden attack of sickness or faintness which probably threw Miss Callaghan forward on her control stick.

Her reason for flying to Washington was given last week to Henry W. O'Melveny, who was her attorney and and old friend of her family. She told him at that time, he said yesterday, that she was determined to overcome the objections of the Department of O'mmerce to granting her a priwate pilot's license and felt that if she flew to Washington from here she would prove to the satisfaction of the government officials that she was entitled to a license in spite of her physical handicap.

According to police reports of the robbery, the bank was held up by two men, who shoved a note through a teller's window demanding $15,000. They were given $1400 and then fied in an automobile asserted to have been driven by Mrs. Sterling.

that she had no knowledge of the robbery and did not participate in it. Interviewed after arrest, she declared that on the day of the hold-up she had taken her brotherin-law. Le Roy Coffman, and a man named Nelson for an automobile ride and that they had requested her to stop at a certain spot.

They left the car, she said, and returned a few minutes later and ordered her to "take us away from here." Returning to her home, according to Mrs. Sterling, the two men gave her $400 and started to leave. She says she then became suspicious of their actions and refused to take the money. The two men who held up the bank have not been apprehended.

It is expected Mrs. Sterling's defense will get under way Monday. She is represented by Deputy Fublic Defender Hill, while the case is being prosecuted by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Frampton.

That the reasons which caused the placing of flexible-tariff provisions in the act of 1922 are still cogent is demonstrated pretty conclusively by the state-ment of President Hoover, in which his views of the debate now taking place in views of the debate now taking place in the Senate are given. Those who favor the elimination of the President's pres-ent power to alter tariff duties, after due consideration and recommendation by the Tariff Commission, are not, in fact, concerned with the flexible-tariff principle; they have seized upon it, for the most part, as an opportunity to make partisan capital at the President's expense and to because and embarrace expense and to harass and embarrass an administration with which they are not in sympathy.

The President, in tariff matters, is not an autocrat, as Mr. Hoover points out. He can take no action upon his own initiative, there must be a complaint or application to the "ariff Commission, which sifts and weighs the evidence and makes a report; and only after this re-port is made is the President empowered to do anything. He then can approve or disapprove.

Just how any tariff bill will work in all its particulars cannot be predicted in advance, it is obvious. On this point the President says:

advance, it is obvious. On this point the President says:

No tariff bill ever enacted has been or ever will be perfect. It will contain injustices. It is beyond human mind to deal with all of the facts surrounding several thousand commodities under the necessary conditions of legislation and not to make some mistakes and create some injustice. Furthermore, if a perfect tariff bill were enacted the rapidity of our changing economic conditions and the constant shifting of our relations with economic life abroad would render some items in such an act imperfect in some particular within a year.

The suggestion that the Tariff Commission report to Congress within a year is objected to by the President upon the sound ground that Congress has proved its inability to discuss the tariff at all without opening up practically all the schedules for debate. A further reason why this plan would not work well is the fact that Congress (fortunately) is not always in session, and an emergency might readily be conceived in which quick action would be required to prevent irreparable injury.

The flexible tariff, of course, presupposes that there will always be a Chief Executive who is a real trustee for American industry and the American consumer. In the hands of a doctrinnaire such a plan might work great harm. But the prosperity of the country is at he mercy of the President in so many other respects already that giving him this additional power is no particular hazard.

In the case of President Hoover, there is no many other respects already that giving him this additional power is no particular hazard.

In the case of President Hoover, there is no occasion for fear that he will use

In the case of President Hoover, there is no occasion for fear that he will use such power unwisely. No man better equipped to administer a flexible tariff ever sat in the executive chair. He has repeatedly shown himself a true friend to business, to agriculture and to the general public.

Senator Borah's objection, substantially that of other opponents of the Tariff Commission, is based on its present make-up and portions of its past record. But the Senator knows, though he omitted to say so, that the President has in mind a reorganization of the body so that it will function more in accord with his ideas. To this extent his attack is insincers. His demand that the President make known his views on specific schedules receives at the White House the silence it merits. If the Fresident started doing that he would have time for nothing else.

In principle, the fiexible tariff has been repeatedly approved by both parties, and it was discussed for many years before it finally became law. It gives the tariff enactment a safety-valve which is so desirable as to be almost a necessity. It should be retained.

THE CUSTOMARY DEFICIT

There was an increase in operating expenses of $114,900 and a decrease in business of $20,377, the year previous having shown a paper profit, though an actual deficit of $292,457. At least, if he didn't actually command, his tone implied that unless we pledged ourself to wear suspenders the whole deal was off, right there.

"Why?" we parried.
"Because this belt habit is ruining men's figures," he declared. "Unconsciously, the man who has only a belt to keep his trousers up will distend his abdomen so as to create more of a shelf below the belt. That's more of a shelf below the belt. That's one reason why you see so many men who really aren't stout who have all their weight concentrated in one spot.

That's just what he said, and you may take it or leave it. Maybe he owned stock in a suspenders company. Maybe he is just a bit cranky about belts. But he spoke so convincingly that we went right out and bought some suspenders.

A Word to Air Pilots
LOS ANGELES, Sept. 24.—[To the Editor of The Times:] It has been called to the attention of our post, that an arrangement made by the motion-picture studios to obviate interference of airplanes with their talking movies is not being adhered to by all pilots. We refer to the arrangement whereby a balloon is now sent up by each of these talking studios and the aviators are then to fly at such a height as not to interfere with the talking picture being made below. The Professional Pilota Association and others agreed to this. However, some pilots not in said association have not played the game, with the consequence that the motion-picture studios have invested in balloons and executed their part of the bargain to no avail We believe this is due to lack of proper publicity and would ask that you give publicity to this agreement with some sort of a request that the pilots seeing these balloons stay out of range and thus help one of our chief industries here, that of motion-pictures.

The world knows the rest of the story.

John Winthrop would hardly know the old town if he could come back for the tercentenary. He would hear a bewildering confusion of tongues on the street cars. He would see scores of churches designed neither in architecture nor in theology after the Puritan model.

Emporia, Kan., would be a much more congenial spot for John Winthrop. Boston has moved west and, to a lesser degree, south. And by Boston is meant the way of looking at things that began with the New England Puritans. In many parts of the Middle West today not only have the Puritan ideals obtained in much of their pristine vigor, but the racial strain also has been kept fairly pure. Colleges and churches are dotted all through the Ohio and Upper Mississippi valleys that go back to Puritan founders.

rounding country and a sock of stories which afforded his followers some amusement. This type of guide has been entirely supplanted by teachers and others who have a line of accurate information which is disseminated in the form of informal talks at the trailside or on the lodge houses around the campfire in the evening.

The selection of the person is made solely upon their ability to act as lecturers and guides. The change seems to be an entirely welcome one for the words of these leaders are listened to attentively by the hundreds of persons who visit these places in the course of the season. These instructor-guides are to be found in Yellowstone Park, Crater Lake, Zion Park and Grand Canyon. The old-time guide has disappeared. He was a driver as well as a guide, but at the present time there is no use for drivers as the parties are taken through the parks in huge automobiles. Occasionally there is a place for the old-time guide in taking equestrian parties over such trails as cannot be tollowed by automobile.

ACTION IN JAIL ORDER HELD UP

Health Officials Discuss Plea for Extension

Report from Chief Davis Will be Awaited

Problems Over Moving Time Limit Unsolved

Extension asked by the Police mmission for more time than the ninety days allowed by the Health sion for the Central Police Station and jail to be vacated as being a menace to the public health, was discussed at a joint meeting of the two commissions yesterday in the two commission deferred action pending a written report to be made Tuesday by Chief of Police Davis on the emergency plan advanced by Efficiency Director Knox for construction of the first unit of a new jail building at Lincoln Heights.

The suggestion of the Chief, who presented the situation at the request of the Police Commission, that the health department make a survey of the City Jail and central police headquarters, to decide what space may be used for prisoners and the police personnel pending the construction of a permanent central headquarters and jail, was accepted.

The Health Commission admitted the contention of the Chief that it is a physical impossibility for the prisoners and police personnel to vacate Central Station within the ninety days and expressed a willingness to co-operate in order that the situation may be improved by removal of a portion of the prisoners.

As the result of the conference that the situation may be improved by removal of a portion of the prisoners.

As the result of the conference the health department will inspect division police stations, including that at San Pedro, to ascertain it health precautions will be served by placing some prisoners from Central Station in the substations, pending completion of the new unit at Lincoln Heights.

Construction Superintendent Brittain estimated that if the City Council appropriates the money necessary for the new unit, which has not yet been requested, it will require six weeks to start work and four months to finish the job. He said the estimate of $300,000 for such a unit is too low. This would set the period for occupancy of the new unit, should it be provided, around March 15.

The entire proposal, according to Chief Davis, would mean merely the elimination of congestion at central jail, a portion of which would have to be occupied until the city is ready to provide funds for the construction of a permanent central jail, and police headquarters.

"The Command Performance" is of rather delicate fabrication, and in a sense extremely artificial in its idea, but this does not detract from its eluxively fascinating appeal that persists, with only brief lapses here and there, through what are virtually six scenes. In several cases the curtain is only lowered to denote a lapse of time, however.

Moldavia, an imaginary kingdom, is in bad straits. It is threatened by the larger and neighboring Serbia. All that will avert war will be the union of the realm's prince with the princess of the neighboring kingdom of Wallachia.

This princess is a lethal maid. The lovers who have sought her hand generally meet untimely deaths when she refuses them. She is described as a modern girl, but one's impression of her is rather that of a medieval vampire. However, it is not she that disposes of the lovers, but her father and his henchmen.

that of a medieval vampire. Nowever, it is not she that disposes of the lovers, but her father and his henchmen.

The prince of Moldavia does not care to propose to her, and risk his demise, so the actor who closely resembles him is forced to go in his place. It is a matter of life and death with the actor since he has been imprisoned for assaulting the prince, and is fated to be sent to the salt mines as a prisoner for twenty years or more—as bad as a living death.

Admittedly, the whole plot of this play is fantastic in the extreme, and the planting of the story is long drawn out, but with the beginning of the actual romance between the prince and princess there is an increased vitality in all that happens. Pathos as well as humor is projected from the tragic situation that arises when it seems the princess cannot marry the man she loves.

"The Command Performance" is in a mainer of speaking a distant relative of "The Swan," in which the Horton company last season scored much success. It will please by its romantic trend, and by its light humor.

The presentation as given last evening needed a somewhat higher pitching of the earlier scenes, particularly the second scene in the first act, which faciling to drag, After all, there is no necessity to take the politics of mythical kingdoms too seriously and solemnly.

Kay Hammond scarcely appears as the dangerous person that one would look for in the role of the princess. The first impression that she makes is consequently a bit disappointing. Later she achieves some exceedingly fine emotional moments that all but redeem her in her fitness for the role.

Evelyn Hall is stately and reserved chancelor. This role is well taken.

One of the most enjoyable characters is the one drawn by Wilfrid North, however, as the rebellious old king of Wallachia, who gets a certain joy even out of the disposal of his daughter's suitors. Elizabeth Ross was effective as the queen, and others taking more important parts are Fred Cummings and Mia Marvin.

COMIC TEAM RELIVES FORMER EXPERIENCES

The current experiences of Var and Schenck in the making of their first feature picture, apon which they are now engaged for M.-G.-M. come as near to furnishing them with a trip back to childhood days as, probably, any human experience could. They are playing baseball together, they are singing together together, they are singing together, and they are starting out together—just as they did some eighteen years ago, when they were given the respective custody of the two ends of a Brooklyn Rapid Transit trolley car in order that they might play pitcher and catcher on the company team.

To say that Van and Schenk are starting out in the films requires some explanation, because many people have seen, heard and enjoyed the short subjects they have appeared in for M.-G.-M., in which they sang their songs and did their comedy with signal success, "Take It Big!" is their first talkie feature, and marks their entrance into what might be called, in their own vaudeville parlance, the "big time" of the screen.

Nothing more is attempted than a pastoral portrait of peasant life. Picturesque, rambling, yet surprisingly well connected, it is filmed as one would tell a story. Incidents follow each other with direct abruptness.

The simple, primitive lives of the villagers were well drawn. The harvest, marriage ceremony and holiday fetes lend many colorful touches. Some remarkably beautiful scenes of peasants reaping the harvest offer high lights in photography.

Woven in is a minor plot concerning the daughter of the house, who be marriage and final control of village activities, symbolizes the modern spirit of Russian womanhood.

Although the tale progresses to a tragic climax, it is generally free from the morbidity associated with Russian creations.

Performances offer nothing mental playing only on the emotional reactions of an uneducated people, as such, they are rendered capably by the entire cast.

The picture was produced by Sovkino of Moscow and directed by the only woman director in Russia, Olga Prebrajenskaya.

Important in the company are R. Pushnaya as Anna; G. Babynin as Ivan, and M. Savelieff as Nickolai. A short feature produced on less than $200 begins the program, Adapted from a story by Ambrose Bierce and directed by Charles Vidor, it depicts a psychological study of the tragic climax of one man's life. It is an amazing and artistic bit.

This automatically was determined yesterday when the State Supreme Court upheld his conviction and sentence to be hanged in an opinion denying a new trial. Chandler will be taken back to the Superior Court for resentencing, the original sentence automatically having been made inoperative through the filing of his appeal in the higher court. Chandler, evidence at the trial showed, attacked the Gafford woman, first with the carcass of a chicken and later knocked her down and kicked her to death. He was in the act when officers arrived on the scene, the testimony revealed. In his appeal Chandler held that the evidence adduced at the trial was insufficient to support a verdict of murder in the first degree and further, that the trial courtered in instructing the jury.
